Dr. H.P.Talbot,

Mass. Inst. of Tech.,

Boston, Mass.

My dear Dr. Talbot:-

I send you by express today a copy of the 1830 edition of Faraday's "Chemical Manipulations", containing marginal notes by the author. This copy was presented by the author to Dr. Hare of Philadelphia, Dr. Hare's widow gave it to her grandson, Frederick Prime, jr., in 1863, and it was presented by him to Dr. Drown in 1880.

Just before leaving his office for the hospital Dr. Drown instructed me, if he should not survive the operation, to forward the book to you. This was, I am sure, his latest instruction or request to any one connected with the University, given by him in the University buildings. He particularly stated to me that you were the one person whom he wished to have this presentation copy of a book by one so eminent in the science of Chemistry.

Very truly yours,

N. M. Emery

Registrar.
